

systemware

Systemware ECM Suite

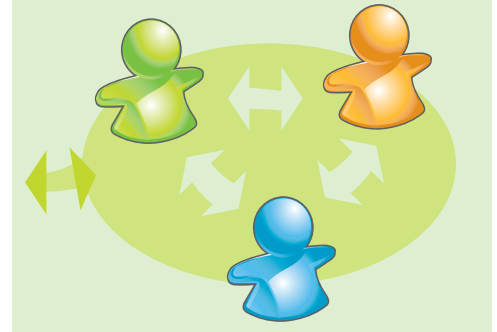

Image and Capture

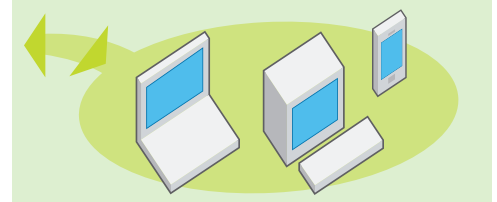

Integrate and Manage

Document Workflow

Search and Deliver

With Systemware, you have one place to access all your enterprise information regardless of format, location or platform. With our fully integrated system, Systemware leads the industry in performance, scalability and ability to connect with any and all existing applications across your organization today.

Image and Capture

- Easily collects large volumes of information quickly and easily throughout the enterprise – paper documents, desktop files, email, print streams, images, XML, etc. – across your enterprise
- Extracts content from a wide spectrum of paper document types including optical character recognition (OCR) and bar code recognition (BCR)
- Seamlessly captures content from enterprise and departmental applications as well as legacy archives
- Retrieves content in existing repositories without the need to convert content with our Legacy Archive Processor (LAP)

Integrate and Manage

- Proactively manage the complete lifecycle of all documents and content from creation to disposition
- Highly scalable, secure, and flexible architecture easily manages billions of documents and petabytes of content
- Retrieve and combine documents and content from applications, systems, and other content repositories located across your enterprise from a single solution
- Enhance and extend SharePoint's ability access to documents and content – such as scanned images, mainframe data streams, and ERP data

Document Workflow

- Flexible, configurable workflows provide the ability to streamline document-based business processes
- Give users access to documents and content sent to their queues for immediate action
- Increase security and control of documents and content through role-based privileges

Search and Deliver

- Significantly reduce search and retrieval time by presenting information intuitively and according to business needs
- Intuitive, browser-based interface with unmatched search and find capabilities providing only the information you need, when you need it
- Ability to easily transform and combine content from original format to Excel, PDF, XML and various other formats

systemware

Systemware, Inc.

15301 Dallas Parkway #1100, Addison, TX 75001
1-800-535-8681 | www.systemware.com

Copyright © 2011 Systemware, Inc. All Rights Reserved.